

August 26 – Peaceful Pines Resort, Eagle River WI

The morning was 62° and sunny. My walk took me the other direction along Eagle Lake and Otter Lake. The birds were singing, the trees stood tall, the deer were out, and it was a delightful walk. Leaving the dogs, we headed out to Leif's Café to sample their breakfast.

Eagle River has a park on the River. Not much of a hike but nice. Google located a couple of hikes but alas they were not hikes at all so we walked on a local snow mobile trail. Since this is the snowmobile capital of the country we had high expectations. We did not choose a beautiful trail.

We ended the day at Bortolottis Cin Cin Restaurant. The food was OK but the music was excellent with a live band, Flying Blind. One of the servers sang a number with the band. A very good evening.
