

September 14 – Utica, NY

I stepped outside to a beautiful morning for a walk amongst the vineyards.

September 14 – Utica, NY

Kai had spotted a trail, so we loaded up the dogs for a walk in the woods. I also did some cross-stitching before the rest of the pack got up. This is such a beautiful part of the country.

After purchasing some wine, we set out for Woodland Farm Brewery in Utica, NY. The drive was a couple of hours which left time for a hike.

When we landed in Utica, we took a drive to the Wilderness Park, where the dogs found and wallowed in the mud. We enjoyed a pleasant evening in the Woodland Farm Brewery. The food was ordinary, but the company was good.
