

September 25 – Saco, ME

Today was overcast but pleasant in the mid-60s. We explored the Trolley Museum, it was well worth the visit and if you are not a fan of public transportation vehicles, like the volunteers, then one only needs a couple of hours. We enjoyed this place and super dog friendly.

September 25 – Saco, ME

Kennebunk and Kennebunkport are both quaint little towns with artisan shops, candy shops and restaurants. We do enjoy walking down these streets, people watching and absorbing the entire experience. Even though it is well beyond Labor Day these little towns were still hosting quite a number of tourists, most of them older with just a few families sprinkled in.
